Nortel Networks UK Pension Plan ('the Plan')

Winding-up Lump Sum Factsheet (for pensioners)

Currently, you receive a pension calculated by reference to the rules of the Pension Protection Fund (PPF). This is a monthly pension payable for life, which includes increases for any pension earned after 5 April 1997.

As we take steps to secure pension benefits for all members with our chosen insurance provider, each member will be allocated a Share of the Funds.

As your Share of the Funds is expected to be less than £18,000, you are able to exchange your pension for a one-off cash lump sum, and stop receiving your pension. This is known as a Winding-up Lump Sum.

This factsheet sets out some important information to consider before giving up your pension and taking a Winding-up Lump Sum instead. This should be read in conjunction with your Option Letter and Personal Statement.

Please refer to the Glossary factsheet for an explanation of any terms used in this factsheet which are unfamiliar to you.

1. What is a Winding-up Lump Sum?

A Winding-up Lump Sum is a one-off cash lump sum that you could receive instead of all future payments of your pension and any dependant's pension payable on your death.

The pension you currently receive would continue until the Plan exits PPF assessment. Shortly after the Plan exits PPF assessment, your pension would stop and the Winding-up Lump Sum would be paid. This would be taxed like regular income. Please see section 6 for some important information on tax.

Your Winding-up Lump Sum payment would include our best estimate, at that point, of your share of all additional recoveries that we expect the Plan to receive (including future recoveries not then received). The Winding-up Lump Sum illustration in your Personal Statement includes our current best estimate of all additional recoveries.

Once the Winding-up Lump Sum is paid, you would no longer be entitled to any further payments from the Plan or our chosen insurance provider.

In addition, there would be no pension payable to any Eligible Dependants you have on your death (please see the Pension factsheet for further details).

2. Why can I take a Winding-up Lump Sum?

The process of moving from PPF assessment to securing benefits with our chosen insurance provider will lead to the Plan being wound up and it will eventually cease to exist. As part of this process, we are able to offer some members an opportunity to exchange their ongoing pension for a single lump sum payment known as a Winding-up Lump Sum. Under UK law, the maximum amount that we can pay out as a Winding-up Lump Sum is currently £18,000.

3. Am I eligible to receive a Winding-up Lump Sum?

Under tax rules, you are only able to receive a Winding-up Lump Sum if you have some available Lifetime Allowance at the date it is paid (see section 4). If you do not think this will be the case, then you should not take this option as you would incur a significant tax charge.

The Lifetime Allowance is the limit set by HMRC on the total capital value of the pension benefits that can be paid to you from registered pension schemes, whether in the form of lump sums or ongoing pension income, without triggering an extra tax charge. The current Lifetime Allowance is £1 million, but is due to increase to £1.03 million from 6 April 2018. You may have a higher personal Lifetime Allowance if you have previously applied for protection at a higher level.

4. Do I have available Lifetime Allowance?

In order to receive a Winding-up Lump Sum, you must have available Lifetime Allowance at the date the Winding-up Lump Sum is paid. Please note that your State Pension does not count towards your Lifetime Allowance.

Very broadly

- If the pension you are receiving from the Plan is your only pension benefit then you will have available Lifetime Allowance; or
- if the total pension income you are currently receiving from the Plan and any other pension scheme is less than £40,000 per year, then it is also very likely that you will have available Lifetime Allowance.

If, however, the total pension income you receive each year is around £40,000 or more, you will need to check whether you will have available Lifetime Allowance when the Winding-up Lump Sum is paid to you which is expected to be towards the end of 2018.

The rules for working out whether or not you will have available Lifetime Allowance when the Winding-up Lump Sum is paid depend on when you started to receive your pension benefits. Broadly:

- Any pension or lump sum benefits that started to be paid after 5 April 2006 will have used up a proportion of your Lifetime Allowance. You can find out what proportion of the Lifetime Allowance has been used up by referring to the information provided to you by the relevant pension scheme at the time these benefits first came into payment.
- If you are receiving a pension that started before 6 April 2006, then your pension scheme will not have provided this information to you. Instead you have to work out what proportion of your Lifetime Allowance has been used up by these pensions. You can work this out by multiplying by 25 the gross amount of pension (i.e. before tax) you expect to be receiving when the Winding-up Lump Sum is paid. This amount, as a proportion of £1.03 million, is the proportion of the Lifetime Allowance that will have been used up by these schemes.

Further information on the Lifetime Allowance can be found on the Pensions Advisory Service website and the Money Advisory Service website

5. What do I need to think about when considering taking the Winding-up Lump Sum?

Taking your benefits as a Winding-up Lump Sum may not be right for everyone, so you will need to think about whether this is appropriate for you.

Taking the lump sum means you effectively get your entire expected future pension as a single payment now rather than as a series of pension payments over the remainder of your life. If you take the lump sum, neither you nor any Eligible Dependants will receive any further payment of benefits from the Plan or our chosen insurance provider. You may therefore wish to discuss this with any Eligible Dependants you have (please see the Pension factsheet for further details).

You should think about whether it is appropriate for you to give up your current monthly pension income which is guaranteed for life. You should also consider how long you expect to live. If you need the income you are currently getting, a Pension may be more suitable. Please see the Pension factsheet for further details.

The lump sum you receive can be used for anything you wish. For example, you might consider putting the money into another investment or using the money to meet other financial commitments you may have such as your mortgage or any outstanding loans you have.

However, the lump sum you receive will count as taxable income for the tax year in which it is paid (which is expected to be the 2018/19 tax year) and could move you into a higher tax band – see section 6. Before you make your decision, you should also consider the impact this payment may have on any means-tested benefits (e.g. Pension Credit, Housing Benefit, Universal Credit or Council Tax Reduction) you may be receiving both immediately and in the future. For the avoidance of doubt, payment of this lump sum will not affect the amount of your State Pension.

6. Important information on tax

Your Winding-up Lump Sum will be treated as taxable pension income in the tax year that you receive it. You should therefore consider any impact this may have on your personal circumstances before taking the Winding-up Lump Sum, for instance, whether taking your benefit as a one-off lump sum might push you into a higher tax bracket in the 2018/19 tax year. The amount illustrated in your Personal Statement is before any deduction of tax.

Tax will be deducted from the Winding-up Lump Sum by the Trustee before it is paid to you. You will be taxed using the same tax code we use to tax your current pension payments under the PAYE system. This may mean we will deduct too much tax for the 2018/19 tax year since we do not know your overall financial circumstances.

Shortly after payment, we will issue you with a payslip and P45 form which will include details of the tax deducted. After 5 April 2019, HMRC will check if you have paid the correct amount of tax in the normal way, and if not they will make the necessary adjustments. However, if you think you may have paid too much tax you can apply to HMRC for a tax refund before the end of the tax year.

7. Will I be able to take a Winding-up Lump Sum in future?

No, you will not be able to take a Winding-up Lump Sum in the future if you do not take it as part of the current Plan wind-up procedure.

8. Help and support

9. How to take a Winding-up Lump Sum

Please check your Option Letter and Personal Statement to see if the Winding-up Lump Sum is your default option. If it is, then you do not need to do anything and we will pay the Winding-up Lump Sum to the bank or building society account used for your monthly Plan pension payments, when the Plan exits PPF assessment.

If it is not your default option, please refer to your Option Letter and Personal Statement for instructions on how to choose a Winding-up Lump Sum.

10. What happens if I die before a Winding-up Lump Sum is paid (if this is the option that applies to me)?

A Winding-up Lump Sum can only be paid if you are alive at the date of payment. If you have chosen a Winding-up Lump Sum (or it applies to you by default) and you die before it is paid, then a Winding-up Lump Sum cannot be paid. Instead, you will be treated as if you had chosen the pension with annual increases option. Any dependant's pensions will be calculated accordingly.
